Please read!

- If more than one group is arriving at the airport and booking one transfer, you must list all arriving flights and times on this form. An additional fee of up to $50.00 may be charged by the transfer operator if you have not listed all arriving flights. This is due to the fact that there are several arrival terminals at the Cancun airport.

Contact Information

If your flight is delayed or cancelled, it is your responsibility to contact the transfer company to inform them of the cancellation or delay. If the original flight # is delayed, simply contact the company with the new arrival time. If your flight # is changed, you must provide the new time and flight #. Failure to inform the transfer company of any delays or cancellations will likely result in the failure of the transfer company to be able to offer you transportation, and your transfer fee will not be refunded.
